REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

The closest cited prior art of record, US 6,579,607, fails to teach or suggest, even in view of US 6,444,080, US 6,132,844, US 5,236,483, US 5,732,745, US 5,451,450, US 5,879,768, US 6,706,385, US 4,399,173, US 4,954,124, US 5,401,560, US 5,194,113 and US 2003/0070579, the combination of an elastomeric film comprising one or more layers and having a total thickness of from about 1 mil to about 15 mil, wherein at least one of said one or more layers comprises from about 0.1 to about 10% by weight of an anti-skid additive, wherein the anti-skid additive has a particle size of between 50 and 500 microns and does not melt or has a melt temperature greater than 500 °F, and wherein said elastomeric film is such that: (i) a first sample of said elastomeric film having a width of 1 inch and a length of 8 inches has an elastic force of at least 97 psi at 600 seconds following a stretching cycle, said stretching cycle including stretching said first sample in the transverse direction to 50% elongation at a velocity of 20 inch/min and returning to 25% elongation, and (ii) a second sample of said elastomeric film having a width of 1 inch and a length of 8 inches exhibits an elongation of at least 6% following application of an average stress of 1000 psi to said second sample for 120 seconds.

Art Unit: 1772

None of the references teach the claimed combination of elastic force and elongation characteristics of the elastomeric film containing the 50 to 500 micron-sized particles. These new limitations are supported by the specification, of which the original drawings, specifically Figures 3-5, 14-15, 19-20, dated 09/26/03 are a part. See Applicant's remarks dated 05/15/07.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
